

Hello Don,

I know we have discussed this before, but it is still a mystery (or difficult) for many of us (1) how to upload pics from our smart phones, set up a file on your hard drive then label it. In addition, when the file is out there, (2) how to use photo-shop or one of the other software packages to manipulate them. (This may be two subjects).

One last thing, my kids constantly send me pictures attached to text messages. (3) How do I send those photos to the picture file I set up in above scenario? Basic stuff I know but we old guys have fallen behind when it comes to technology. I enjoy Computer Club so much and always come away with something I can use.
